Summary

The topic of my abstract deals wit being passed down from one gene Thinking of the brain like a hard operating system and other softwa is stored on a hard drive using el when experienced is explained usi past with the same DNA signal an when crossed. Seeing something p being able to focus enough to kee someone to experience. Sometimes a will to see this until it is right! I

Our brain being no different from any to pass information from our parents patterns from one generation to anot chemical and electrical information th may or may not be conscious to us u Just as the electrical charges, which s